EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Kind words can be short and easy to speak, but their echoes are truly endless." — Mother Teresa. This quote reminds me of my paternal grandfather's words, who would often urge people to use gentle words instead of harsh ones. Over the last 2 decades, I have realised the power of the written and spoken words. Even the Bhagavad Gita in chapter 17, verse 15 says that our speech must have four important characteristics: it should not agitate, it should be truthful, it should be pleasant and it should be beneficial to the listener and motivated solely by a sense of welfare of those to whom it is addressed. My parents have practiced this in their day-to-day life. Though my mother is not talkative, her unassuming and benevolent nature often creates a lasting impression. My father, on the other hand, is known for his gift of the gab. 'We always have a hearty laugh and feel good about life, whenever we meet you' is the parting shot by most people who have interacted with him.

Recently, I had to rush to my parent's aid, when my mother sustained burn injuries due to an unforeseen incident at home. Though the doctor assured us of her quick recovery, we restrained her from entering the kitchen for a week. Somehow the news of this incident reached the ears of my mother's walking friends and father's childhood pals. The trickle of visitors started with one or two and soon escalated to a roomful of well-wishers. Some came with freshly cooked food while others fervently prayed for her well-being.

This accident certainly escalated our stress levels but our trauma was short-lived thanks to the omnipresent compassion and positive vibes from near and dear ones! "What goes around comes around, doesn't it," remarked my aunt who stayed with us and cooked delicious meals. Indeed, the gentle ways of my parents, their helping nature and warm words have left an indelible mark on many people's lives. The echoes of their kind words have sown the seeds of love in every heart they have touched sparking boundless gratitude and joy. As a delighted onlooker, I was in awe of the abundance of love and care showered on my mother, which made her sail through this difficult phase with ease! This quote by Blaise Pascal sums it up well: Kindness does not cost much, yet they accomplish much! — Rohini S. Murthy in 'Deccan Herald'

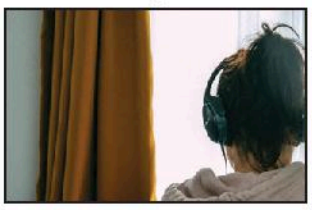
Mel Brooks' comedy Spaceballs inspired helmet

Amsterdam: Dutch professional sports team Visma-Lease a Bike recently debuted the Aerohead 2.0, a time trial cycling helmet with an outrageous design that seems to have been inspired by Mel Brooks' cult comedy, Spaceballs.

The new time trial head gear was designed and developed in collaboration with American company Giro Sport Design and debuted earlier this month, on the first stage of Tirreno-Adriatico, where it caused quite a stir due to its unusual shape. Considerably larger than most time trial cycling helmets, the Aerohead 2.0 has an unusually large visor that could help with visibility when head-down riding, as well as wider wings and an upward-elongated front tip. It has been described as "ridiculous" and an "eyesore", but Visma-Lease a Bike swears by its aerodynamic qualities.

Hearing loss after listening to music in headphones



Shandong: A young woman who went to sleep every night for two years by playing music in her headphones now has to wear a hearing aid to compensate for the hearing loss.

Wang, a young woman from Shandong, China, who works as a secretary at a local firm, recently went to the hospital for an ear exam after noticing that she had hearing problems. Often, when her supervisor would whisper to her during meetings, she had trouble understanding his words and she was worried that this would end up causing problems at work. A thorough examination revealed that the woman had suffered permanent neurological hearing damage in her left ear, which accounted for her trouble hearing her boss. Asked if her ears had been subjected to loud noises for long periods of time, Wang said that the only thing she could think of was listening to music through her headphones every night.

Rameshwaram Cafe blast case

NIA arrests key suspect from Ballari

Bengaluru,Mar. 13(Agencies)- In a significant breakthrough in the investigation of the Bengaluru Rameshwaram Cafe blast case, the National Investigation Agency (NIA) has arrested a key suspect from Karnataka's Ballari district. NIA took over the blast case on Mar. 3.

Identified as Shabbir, the suspect was taken into custody by the anti-terror agency for his alleged involvement in the low-intensity blast that occurred at the popular cafe on Mar. 1.

The breakthrough came days after NIA shared a picture of the suspect and announced a reward of Rs. 10 lakh for information.

On Mar. 1, a photo of the suspect, believed to be around 30 years old, was captured which showed him carrying a plate of idli inside the cafe. He was seen with a shoulder bag suspected to have the Improvised Explosive Device (IED) bomb inside.

In another CCTV footage, the same suspect is seen walking towards the restaurant with a bag. After analysing three more CCTV videos, investigating officials said, the suspect had changed his clothes and appearance multiple times to evade identification after the cafe explosion. The explosion was carried out by triggering an IED bomb using a timer.

Last Saturday, NIA had released 2 videos and pictures of the suspect and sought co-operation of citizens to identify him. In the 49-second video, the suspect is seen boarding a BMTC bus. In the video, the suspect was seen getting up from the middle seat, moving towards the rear end of the vehicle and settling into another seat.

According to sources within the NIA, interrogation of the suspect is currently underway to gather crucial information related to the blast incident. Police sources said Shabir is believed to be an accomplice of the prime suspect who was seen leaving a bag at the cafe on security camera footage just before the blast.

Rameshwaram Cafe resumed operations last week with enhanced security measures. Metal detectors have been installed at the entrance and customers are subjected to screening using hand-held detectors to ensure safety of patrons and staff.

Earlier, NIA officials probing the blast had learnt that the man who planted the bomb travelled to Ballari from where he is suspected to have gone to Pune. While it was not clear how he reached the Maharashtra city, he was found to have boarded a bus heading for Gokarna in Karnataka on Mar. 1 night.

Will BJP voters of Mysuru-Kodagu press NOTA?

Sir,

We hear the news that Prathap Simha, the sitting MP, will not get a ticket and there is definitely disappointment among many BJP voters of Mysuru-Kodagu Lok Sabha (LS) Constituency.

First, because they are losing a "development" oriented MP, worse it seems that BJP does not care for the performance of its MP, which means the whole "report card" system they take pride in is a farce !

If this is the case, then every MP who comes next will think that his future in BJP is not guaranteed even if he works hard for his Constituency. So he will join the local politicians and become corrupt.

Prathap Simha not getting a ticket has only brought glee and grin among certain local BJP leaders and a few State BJP leaders but certainly it has made BJP voters very unhappy.

Now, BJP voters may not want to vote for other party candidates. And they may not feel obliged to vote for BJP candidate either. In such a dilemma, they can press the NOTA (None Of The Above) button in the EVMs.

May be Mysureans, who love this city, who want this city to be future ready and not go the Bengaluru way, may opt for NOTA.

If that happens, Mysuru-Kodagu BJP voters will be the first in India to use NOTA to force a political party to rethink its decision and set a precedent that a party cannot take its guaranteed vote bank for granted.

Voters may console themselves saying that their one seat in Lok Sabha will not decide whether Modi will become PM or not. This being the case, they may use their vote to send a message to BJP top brass.

Hundreds rally behind Prathap Simha for LS ticket

Mysuru, Mar. 13 (GA&BCT)- In an emotional display of solidarity, supporters of Mysuru-Kodagu MP Prathap Simha protested this morning, advocating for his candidacy in the upcoming Lok Sabha (LS) election.

They decried the party High Command's apparent move to deny him a chance to contest the elections for the third time in a row.

Gathering near the Hinkal Flyover in Mysuru, the crowd of supporters from Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) and Janata Dal-Secular (JD-S) and a large number of students voiced their resounding endorsement for Prathap Simha, urging party leaders to nominate him for the Parliamentary seat from the Mysuru-Kodagu Constituency.

Hundreds of protesters had gathered at the venue. The protest was initially planned at the Kempegowda Circle (Manipal Hospital Junction) on the Outer Ring Road near the meeting point of Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway. However, the Police did not grant permission as the protest would hamper traffic movement on the busy stretch.

Amidst chants resonating with enthusiasm and fervour, slogans such as "For the nation, it's Modi; for Mysuru, it's Prathap Simha" and "We need Prathap Simha" echoed at the venue.

Holding placards, the protesters and students undertook a bike rally near the protest venue. This, however, resulted in traffic jams in the Hinkal Flyover surroundings.

Give priority for drinking water: District Minister

Mysuru, Mar. 13 (MTY&BS)- Social Welfare and Mysuru District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa instructed the Officers to stay alert by ensuring that no water crisis erupts in the district, with due priority to use water sources only to meet drinking water requirements.

He was speaking during a meeting on handling drought situation with Officers at Zilla Panchayat (ZP) Hall in the city on Monday.

"As per forecast, the drought situation is expected to turn worse and instructions have been issued to take necessary action with the Government already announcing drought hit districts in the State. In this backdrop, we have to take precautions to prevent water crisis and water should be drawn from the sources only for the purpose of supplying drinking water. The drinking water should not be used for any other purposes," he said.

The villages and localities facing drinking water crisis should be identified and precautions should be taken before the situation turns worse. The District and Taluk Administrations should be ready to tackle the situation and respond speedily especially in the case of water for people and to feed the livestock, said Dr. Mahadevappa.

Continuing, the Minister said: "Instead of drilling new borewells for drinking water purpose, steps must be taken to repair existing borewells and supply water by fixing the pump. There have been complaints related to water everywhere and during such a situation not a drop of water should be wasted by using it judiciously. The people should be sensitised about using water and private borewells should be used during emergency situations."

Social Welfare and Mysuru District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, flanked by Zilla Panchayat (ZP) CEO K.M. Gayathri and DC Dr. K.V. Rajendra, addressing a meeting at ZP Hall in city on Monday.

Besides, the Officers have been directed to collect information about the villages and localities that faced drinking water crisis earlier and take measures to prevent the situation from going out of hand this time. The pump sets installed at lake beds have been cleared and awareness has been created against using drinking water for farm needs. If the situation warrants, water from Harangi and Hemavathy dams will also be used."

Ranjith Kumar, Executive Engineer of Rural Drinking Water and Sanitation Department, said: "Presently two villages are facing drinking water crisis and water is being supplied through private borewells. In the coming days, 134 villages may face the crisis and water is supplied to 36 villages among them daily."

Dr. M.P. Purnananda, Assistant Director of Animal Husbandry and Veterinary Services Department, said: "The available fodder stock can take care of cattle feed for 34 weeks. The fodder kits will be supplied to farmers, with already 72,113 kits supplied to them. However, there is no plan to open Goshala or Fodder Bank, but preliminary arrangements are made to address the situation. While inter-district transport of fodder has been prohibited."

Joint Director of Agriculture Chandrashekar said: "There was a shortage of cotton seeds during pre-monsoon season, along with less quality. As many as 1.2 lakh packets of cotton seeds are available at Raitha Samparka Kendras. While Rs. 2,000 each totalling Rs. 15.83 crore has been deposited in the accounts of 88,620 farmers under drought relief."

Non-disposal of garbage on Devaparthiva Road

Sir,

For the past so many months, the garbage on Devaparthiva Road (BJP Office Road) is not cleared by the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC).

Incidentally the garbage is lying in front of a house which is in an abandoned state and has not been cleaned for many years.

Apart from rats living in that house premises, even I have seen snakes crossing the road during night times.

Hence I appeal to the MCC authorities to dispose the garbage and also inform the owner of the house to clean the compound premises at the earliest.

Mysore Paints to be developed as a competitive brand: Minister

Large and Medium Industries Minister M.B. Patil seen chairing the meeting in Bengaluru recently.

Bengaluru, Mar. 13 (BCT)- Karnataka Minister for Large and Medium Industries M.B. Patil on Monday chaired a board meeting of the State-owned Mysore Paints and Varnish Limited (MPVL) to discuss the strategies needed to be adopted to increase its production capacity and financial turnover and added that the aim is to develop 'Mysore Paints' as a brand to enable it to compete with private players.

Speaking after the meeting, the Minister in a statement said that the enterprise which is one of the prestigious factories set up during the Mysore Maharaja's regime currently has an annual turnover of around Rs. 34 crore to Rs. 35 crore. However, now, there is a requirement for indelible ink due to the upcoming Lok Sabha elections and the turnover this year is expected to touch Rs. 77 crore, he added.

The market will also be expanded rationally and paints will be made available at competitive prices, Patil explained.

Abracadabra... Abracadabra...

By K.B. Ganapathy

Birth of a newspaper and I was there...

In the passing away of 'Mayor' Vasu, on Mar. 9, 2024, I have lost a very dear friend of 44 years. This Abracadabra I wrote 21 years ago on Feb. 7, 2003, a day after he (Vasu) launched an english evening newspaper called The Mysore Mail. I thought it would interest our past and current readers of Star of Mysore. Hence, it is reproduced here. —KBG

Last evening I went to the Exhibition Grounds to see the birth of a newspaper. Dr. U.R. Ananthamurthy was the 'gynaecologist.' The birth pangs were not perceived. But under an expert gynaecologist the delivery was painless.

The baby was scooped from a royal chest, we were told, made urgently for the purpose with an arched lid bound by brass bands, may be symbolising the womb. Yes, in these matters symbolisms and VIP presence in excess of what is otherwise needed is, I suppose, necessary.

The mother was beaming with joy and it was understandable. The child should herald its arrival with sound. Yes, sound there was but not fury.

Thus was born one more newspaper in our city — The Mysore Mail.

In Hindu tradition there are many ways of prayers unlike in other religions. Puja, Mahapuja and Mela. The first one is private, not ostentatious. Second one is also private but borders on bribing the God. The third one is simply exhibitionist. The very choice of the sprawling Exhibition Grounds for the occasion makes it clear.

Yes, why not. When the publisher is a politician, it cannot be in another way. And then Vasu, the owner, is a soft-spoken 'gentleman politician' and a friendly person with unbounded patience. Occasions like this should naturally be used to win friends and build vote-banks. After all, elections are just about a year away.

Be that as it may, it was a grand function with a galaxy of dignitaries on the stage. Amongst them Mr. Vasu's political mentor Dr. M. Veerappa Moily was conspicuous by his absence. He had to rush to Delhi to receive the bad news — he lost to his political rival Poojary in the race for KPCC Presidentship. That's bad news for the just-born paper too! The Royalty, Mr. Srikanta Datta Narasimha Raja Wadiyar, the MP, was very conspicuous by his presence, though has considerably gone down in size.

Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji of Suttur Mutt was there to offer his benediction. As is his wont he was there on dot. If our politicians are to learn about punctuality, they may as well learn it at the feet of the Swamiji. I am told for that very reason politicians strain themselves to reach the venue of the function wherever the Swamiji is present.

It was apparent many days of preparation and long night's labour must have gone into the birth of the paper baby. And, of course, it was Vasu's style. And the speakers, one after the other, spoke in their own style too. Let us consider... Let me do the surfing...

First, Dr. Ananthamurthy, who too has gone down in size making him look healthier than before. As usual, he was cheerful — a special trait of his in public and private. No wonder, he is much sought after at functions of all kinds. An intellectual who has shunned the ivory tower, walks with the commoner, talks with the commoner with as much ease as with the highbrow. Dr. Ananthamurthy is also known for looking at issues from an angle which no one else would have thought of. That's why he is different and that probably is why he is difficult to some! Let it be.

In his brief, to the point pontification, he regretted that these days 'extremists are becoming natural heroes' while those who work silently for the good of the people go unnoticed.

Disclosing the whisperings he had on the stage a while ago with Justice M.F. Saldanha about the latter saving a tortoise, he said such noble acts must make news! He also regretted the loss of communicating power of language, specially in the legislature where screaming and shouting make language irrelevant to the extent one loses faith in the communicating power of the language. He mentioned of the old-guard freedom fighter Acharya J.B. Kripalani walking out of the Parliament unable to bear the brunt of abuse of language where words had lost their meaning. Language is meant for persuasion, to win over the opponents. Not to frighten or intimidate him.

Vasu

Like the sting in the tail and as a wise man that he is, he issued his diktat: In English newspapers (in Karnataka) those who do not know Kannada should not become journalists.

I agree, I fully agree. But Sir, do you know how many Kannada knowing persons are available for the job? Ask your friends in the State-level English newspapers and poor me at the city-level.

The next speaker was Justice Saldanha. Though I was not expecting him to be an oracle, I did expect him to deliver some homilies to the print and electronic media, specially in the light of the "Mysore Resort Scandal." Was it the figment of a journalist's imagination? Did it really happen? Was it planted by a disgruntled Police Officer? No one seems to know. Now it has landed in the Karnataka High Court in the form of a Contempt of Court case. Yesterday the case was adjourned for today. Hence, my expectations from the Judge. I was disappointed as he did not touch upon issues concerning core journalism (where the cardinal principle is 'when in doubt, cut it out,' 'facts are sacred, but comment is free' etcetera).

Instead, he touched upon the commercial aspect of journalism — Audit Bureau of Circulations (ABC) Report, Foreign Survey Report on readership which found that in India there is still scope for "35 new dailies." Hope for other politicians! Thank you Justice Saldanha.

Oh, Yes. He did touch on the subject. But it was a case of touch and go. He said in his own fast-forward style about his being 'nervous' to accept this invitation because of the 'recent happenings attributed to Mysore.' He said he had just 13 months to retire and he was happy to leave the judiciary.

He said if there was a place where he would like to come and live 'it is Mysore.'

While assuaging the Press saying 'History has showed us that nobody, not even dictators, are able to fetter or gag the Press,' he added like the proverbial sting in the tail, 'under the Contempt of Court Act we must respect Judiciary.'

But did some one say that the Contempt of Court Act is antiquated and is a colonial vestige? Oh, yes. It was the resurrected Press Guild!

He advised the Press to "stand up for its rights." Spoke of its role during freedom struggle and Emergency and said "that spirit" has to be brought to The Mysore Mail. But where is the opportunity — neither 'freedom struggle' is there nor an Emergency!! So wait!

Our venerable Dejagow (Prof. D. Javaregowda) spoke in his familiar style — like it is. He spoke of some one entrusted to look after an elephant — that a newspaper is — and of many avatars of Vasu — as a politician, as a owner of many educational institutions and now as a owner of newspapers. Which new avatar Vasu would assume next, Dejagow said, he would not know.

Then came our veteran politician, looking really aged, a gentleman among politicians, M.S. Gurupadaswamy. His clarion call was:

Having been a journalist himself (editor of now defunct Prajamatha weekly) before plunging into politics, he told Vasu that starting a newspaper itself is an adventure (sahasa), running it properly is also an adventure and making a success of it is a great adventure. He then blamed (like a true politician) the Legislature, Executive and the Judiciary for the present plight of the country saying these three organs of the State are not working properly and it is only the media that can help. He said, alluding to what Dr. Ananthamurthy said earlier, that "We must have a Government by discussion. Hence, the Fourth Estate must play its role honestly, impartially, sans corruption." Good advice.

But he also said "This is best of times and worst of times." Best of times because of the quantum leap taken by the country in science and technology. Worst of times because democracy is failing. Thank you Sir, for blowing hot and cold — science is our hope, politics is our despair. Hey Ram!

Dr. Bansi Lal Amla, to give our friendly former CFTRI Director his full, elongated name, was among those who were felicitated on the occasion. True to his nature he said, "Star of Mysore was having a lonely time. Now it has a companion." Timely reminder, I thought.

While Wadiyar deprecated in few words the propensity of the Press for sensation-mongering, Suttur Swamiji spoke in measured pace, weighing words, thus creating a spiritual ambience to an otherwise highly politicised atmosphere what with so many politicians of all parties thronging the venue.

His Holiness admired Vasu for his friendly nature and winning the hearts of thousands of people who had gathered there. 'People must tell the truth, even if it is bitter, but tell it in a sweet manner.' At no time dharma should be discounted, take care, His Holiness cautioned.

Recalling what Dr. Ananthamurthy said earlier, the Swamiji opined one should not give up one's mother-tongue, true; but at the same time one should also learn, English. There should be no bias in this regard.

Earlier speakers had blessed Vasu for instant success in his new venture (avatar) wishing it to take-off vertically like a helicopter, said the Swamiji. So saying he also joined them in blessing the newspaper. At this moment, I said to myself, 'Gosh, it took 25 years for me to be where I am today!'

His Holiness also wished that all those thousands gathered at the grand function would become the subscribers of the newspaper. So be it.

District-level Government Employees Sports Meet

Sports helps Officers in beating stress: DC

DC Dr. K.V. Rajendra and ZP CEO K.M. Gayathri handing over the Sports Torch to participants of the two-day District-level Government Employees Sports Meet during the inauguration at Chamundi Vihar Stadium in the city on Tuesday as MLC C.N. Manjegowda (extreme right) looks on.

Mysuru, Mar. 13 (GA&BS)- Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. K.V. Rajendra said: "Sports helps Officers who work for 365 days in a year in developing a better mindset by overcoming job-related stress." He was speaking during the inauguration of two-day District-level Government Employees Sports Meet, organised by Mysuru District Government Employees Association, Zilla Panchayat (ZP) and Department of Youth Empowerment and Sports (DYES), at Chamundi Vihar Stadium in the city on Tuesday.

"Sports provides a better opportunity for the Officers to show their talent along with sportsmanship which reflects their style of working. Even amid Lok Sabha elections-related duties, the Sports Meet has been organised in available time. It is expected to inspire the Officers to discharge election duties in a more spirited manner," added DC.

Of late, health-related issues are on the rise and hence it is important for the Officers to focus on keeping their personal health, apart from handling duties. While the sports helps in working like a team developing the ability to face any difficult situations, he said.

Moreover there is a myth in circulation that those hitting gymnasium daily are dying in large numbers. One should come out of such a false mindset and instead focus on maintaining their fitness, advised Dr. Rajendra.

MLC C.N. Manjegowda said: "With the Government employees entrusted with multiple duties, they are facing intense pressure at work place. It can be addressed by filling up the vacant Government posts."

If one has to stay healthy, he or she has to do yogasana, walking and take part in sporting activities. Sports is beyond caste and community barriers, which is less preferred by the children of bureaucrats. While those from rural areas are contributing to sports in big numbers, with some among them having made a mark in international Sports Meets too, said Manjegowda.

Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of Mysuru Zilla Panchayat K.M. Gayathri, President of Mysuru District Government Employees Association Govindaraju and other office-bearers were present.

Amid ticket denial buzz, Simha vows to work for party's sake

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Prathap Simha, who was felicitated at a function organised by Kannada Chaluvali Kendra Samithi at Patrakarthara Bhavan in city this morning, seen with Star of Mysore and Mysuru Mithra Founder-Editor K.B. Ganapathy, writer Bannur Raju, President of Kannada Chaluvali Kendra Samithi Muguru Nanjundaswamy, retired Director of Gandhi Bhavan, University of Mysore, Dr. S. Shivarajappa, social worker Dr. K. Raghuram Vajpayee and others.

Mysuru, Mar. 13 (GA&BS)- Amid speculations over the possible denial of ticket this time to contest the forthcoming Lok Sabha election from Mysuru- Kodagu Constituency, MP Prathap Simha has softened his stance willing to work for whomsoever candidate the party fields in the elections.

Addressing the gathering after receiving felicitation from Kannada Chaluvali Kendra Samithi at Patrakarthara Bhavana in the city this morning, Simha who is serving his second consecutive term as a MP said "Modi should be the PM again and will work for any candidate including the Maharaja (referring to titular head of erstwhile Mysore Royal Family Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar). I am indebted to the people of Mysuru and Kodagu Constituency, which I considered as my home. With the sole aim of its full-fledged development, I have implemented several projects which yielded good points in Swachh Survekshan rankings."

"I owe a lot to Mysuru-Kodagu Constituency and even if I die, I have initiated works that echo my name. My birth place is different, but this Constituency is both my Karmabhoomi (area of work) and Rudrabhoomi (burial land). I will complete the pending works," assured Simha.

"There have been discussions about Lok Sabha ticket for the past seven to eight days. Everybody has a wish and when it comes to politics, leaders resort to different game plans to win the elections. I won my maiden elections on the back of Modi's campaigning in Mysuru on Apr. 8, 2014. I won the subsequent elections (held in 2019) by a huge margin. If given the ticket to contest again, I will win by a margin of five times more than the previous election, affirmed Simha.

Earlier, Founder-Editor of Star of Mysore and Mysuru Mithra K.B. Ganapathy (KBG) said "I demand that Simha be given the ticket who as an MP has enormously contributed for the development of the Constituency, unlike his predecessors. Be it Passport Seva Kendra in Mysuru or any other works, Simha has his mark on them."

When dynasty politics evolved people were not prescient and didn't even think of cutting its wings. Now, the dynasty of kings has begun to resurface in politics, with BJP looking for the Royals and Congress for the family dynasty to contest the elections, said KBG making an oblique reference to the developments surrounding the name of Yaduveer doing rounds as a possible BJP candidate from Mysuru-Kodagu LS Constituency replacing Simha.

President of Kannada Chaluvali Kendra Samithi Mugur Nanjunda Swamy, retired Director of Gandhi Bhavan, University of Mysore, Prof. S. Shivarajappa, writer Bannur K. Raju, social worker Dr. K. Raghuram Vajpayee and others were present on the occasion.

Simha gets a call!

Prathap Simha had to abruptly stop his speech awhile as he got a call on his cell phone, while addressing the gathering at Patrakarthara Bhavana this morning. He rushed towards the computer room in Patrakarthara Bhavana and was busy over phone for about 10 minutes before returning to the dais.

It was only afterwards did Simha say "Be it anybody including the Maharaja, we will work towards ensuring the victory of the candidate in the Lok Sabha elections from Mysuru-Kodagu Constituency to make Modi PM again."

The other demands included felicitation of achievers during the Vishwakarma Jayanti celebrations at the district-level, installation of Amarashilpi Jakanachari statue in Vidhana Soudha premises and release of Rs.50 crore for development of community Mutts which are lacking in funds, among others.

Journalists recall Vasu's contributions to society

Mysuru, Mar. 13 (GA&BCT)- During an event held at Patharakarthara Bhavan yesterday, journalists gathered to honour the memory of the late former MLA Vasu, who passed away on Mar. 9.

Vasu was not only known for his political career but also as a media entrepreneur who significantly contributed to the field of journalism by providing employment opportunities to many journalists through his newspapers.

In his address at the condolence meeting, senior journalist K. Deepak highlighted Vasu's contributions. He emphasised that Vasu's newspaper, 'Prajanudi', not only served as a platform for journalism but also served as a source of livelihood for numerous journalists.

He further remarked that Vasu's organisation didn't confine itself to journalism and news dissemination but also played a vital role in nurturing and developing many budding journalists, thus leaving an indelible mark on the media landscape. "Vasu's demise has created a void," he remarked.

Vasu's son, Kaveesh Gowda, shared insights into his father's character, portraying him as someone who embraced life's challenges with unwavering determination. He reflected on the principles his father instilled in them, crediting Vasu for shaping their lives and enabling them to attain a respected position in society. Kaveesh expressed a commitment to uphold his father's legacy by ensuring the continued improvement and excellence of the educational institutions and other organisations that Vasu established and managed.

II PU students to get grace marks for Physics

Bengaluru, Mar. 13 (Agencies)- The Karnataka School Examination and Assessment Board (KSEAB) has issued a circular stating that students who appeared for the II PU Physics board exam on Mar. 7 will receive grace marks.

This decision comes in response to an online petition by II PU science students, urging KSEAB to grant them grace marks due to intricate Multiple Choice Questions (MCQs).

However, the Board emphasised that this resolution is a one-time exception and will not be entertained in future instances. Students expressed that certain questions in the paper appeared to be from the Higher Order Thinking Skills (HOTS) section of the textbook, which are typically challenging and not covered extensively by teachers.

The online petition quickly garnered over 70,054 signatures, prompting authorities to take action. Students remarked that while numerical problems were straightforward and concise, the MCQs were not aligned with the syllabus and posed difficulty.

Students said MCQs resembled questions found in JEE/ NEET entrance exams. Consequently, the Board decided to grant grace marks to all who attempted non-blueprint MCQs in Part A of the paper. However, the Board clarified that students who opted to skip these questions will not receive any grace marks.

WORD OF THE DAY

Refurbish

Pronunciation: rih-FER-bish (verb)
Meaning: To refurbish something is to brighten or freshen it up, or to repair and make improvements to it.
Origin: As seems proper given how English prefixes work, before you could refurbish something you could furbish it. That shorter word was borrowed into Middle English in 14th century from Anglo-French as furbisshen; it shares a distant relative with Old High German verb furben, meaning "to polish." In its earliest uses furbish also meant "to polish," but it developed an extended sense of "to renovate" shortly before English speakers created refurbish with the same meaning in 17th century. These days refurbish is the more common of the two words, although furbish does continue to be used.
Example: "The city of San Diego is tasked with completing the building and replanting the interior plants, which are currently in storage. Meanwhile, the city's not-for-profit partner Forever Balboa Park is responsible for financing and completing phase-two improvements. Those include remaking the exterior gardens, improving walkways, reconstructing the pergola that was on the west lawn and refurbishing the fountains." — Jennifer Van Grove, The San Diego Union-Tribune, 17 Jan. 2024

THE ODD WORD

Macrosmatic

Having a good sense of smell.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Take with a grain of salt

Meaning: The phrase 'Take with a grain of salt' means that the listener should to take the source of the information as prone to be unreliable or exaggerated.
Origin: "Take it with a grain of salt" is more common in American and Australian English, while "take it with a pinch of salt" is more common in British English.
Example: "Yolanda tells some great stories, but we take what she says with a grain of salt because she has quite a vivid imagination and tends to exaggerate."
